Vreemd hè?

Ze wil ineens niet meer knuffelen...
