

A woman with short grey hair and glasses sits on a patterned rug in a living room, looking directly at the camera with a concerned expression. She is holding a small white stuffed animal. The room is filled with toys, including a red chair, a green toy car, and various blocks. In the background, a child in a green shirt is jumping on a grey sofa. The scene is lit with warm, natural light from a window with plants on the sill.

Vreemd hè?

Ze wil ineens niet meer knuffelen...
